This document describes how to construct files with comma-separated payment records.

The file must contain one line for each payment. The fields must start and finish with quotation marks (") and the fields must be separated by a comma (.). You must not use quotation marks in the individual fields.

Each field has no fixed length, which means that you do not have to add spaces or zeros in front or behind the content in a field. In the field description, a (maximum) length is described for each field.

If a field is obligatory, you must always fill it out. A field that has not yet been filled out will be indicated with two quotation marks ("). When there are no more obligatory fields in a payment, you can leave out the rest of the fields.

In the "Format" field AN means Alphanumeric and N means Numeric
